

After many months of planning, discussion and consultation, the culmination of the Borough Council's programme of improvements to the heart of Woking is about to be realised.

London & Edinburgh Trust will soon be beginning work on Woking's new shopping and arts and entertainments centre. When completed,

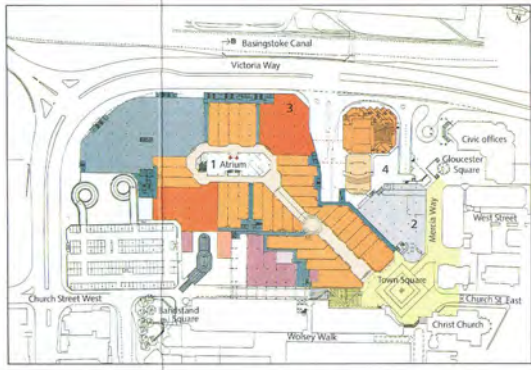

Artist's Impression of Town Square

The Peacocks will provide the people of Woking with the best shopping and leisure amenities in the region, as well as a new library and offices for use by local voluntary organisations.

Planning

London & Edinburgh Trust's proposals for The Peacocks received outline planning permission in May this year. Since then, LET and its professional team, in partnership with Woking Borough Council and in consultation with local amenity groups and the users of Centre Halls, have further

- Upper Concourse
- Mall
  - Major department store
  - Chain stores
  - Speciality shops
  - Library
  - Rhoda McGaw Theatre
  - Theatre
  - Open areas
1. Food Court and Market Food Hall, Lower Concourse
  2. Cinemas and Function Suite, 1st floor
  3. Nightclub and Discotheque, 1st floor
  4. Health and Beauty, off Mercia Way modified the layout of the shopping centre and enlarged and improved the arts and entertainments facilities on offer.

An application for detailed planning permission has now been submitted to the Council and, if this is granted by the Town Planning Committee at its meeting on 1 November, work on site can commence early in the New Year.

Information Updates

As a follow-up to LET's original newsletter which accompanied the public exhibition of its proposals at Centre Halls at the end of March, this update provides information on the modifications which have been made to LET's plans since May and illustrates the proposals which have been submitted for detailed planning permission. As The Peacocks takes shape, LET will be publishing regular updates which will keep local people fully informed of progress on the scheme.
