THE HISTORY OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH

The Church of Byfleet was mentioned in Domesday Book (1086). The present building dates from 1310. For centuries there was only the nave and chancel. The south aisle was added in 1841, the organ chamber and transept in 1864, and the Vestry in 1881.

The pulpit is Jacobean, and the font is 15th Century. There is a fine 15th Century Brass of Thomas Teylor, who was Rector from 1454 - 89. To the west of the main door is a circular Maltese Consecration Cross, and above the door is an ancient painting, possibly of the Virgin Mary and child.

A unique feature is the War Memorial at the west end of the south aisle, where you will find the actual rough wooden crosses from the graves on the battlefields of Byfleet men who died in the first world-war.

The latest addition to the furniture is the 'Norfolk' electronic organ which was purchased in 1968 when the old pipe-organ was unusable.

A more detailed account of the history of St. Mary's Church with illustrations will be on sale at the Christmas Fair priced 12½p.
